NOTE: Most students take more than one course.

<sup>a</sup> Academic subjects in the pre-college-curriculum (PCC): Includes those academic subjects included in Kentucky's PCC such as English, math, social sciences, physical sciences, and foreign languages.

<sup>b</sup> Non-PCC academic subjects: This category includes courses in disciplines that are clearly academic in nature but are not in the PCC (mainly because they are not offered in high school), such as philosophy, religious studies, etc.

<sup>c</sup> Technical and occupational courses: Courses in technical and occupational CIP codes. The majority were in mechanic and repair technician, precision production, health technician, engineering technician, and construction trades.

<sup>d</sup> Business, information technology and pre-professional: Includes courses on computer and information sciences and support services, business management, marketing and related services, and pre-professional courses such as communications, education, and architecture. These courses are somewhat occupational in nature.

<sup>e</sup> Personal improvement courses: Includes courses taken in CIP codes relating to sports and recreation and to personal
